183± Deeded Acres

187 Milo Road is located in the heart of western Nebraska's scenic Pine Ridge country. Nestled along a ridgeline, the property overlooks grass covered plains and enjoys "end-of-the-road" seclusion. Beautiful views along with a quiet country living atmosphere add to the appeal of this property.

The property lies northwest of the historic Fort Robinson State Park. A former U.S. Army Fort, declared a National Historic Landmark in 1960, and is now a sprawling 22,000-acre public recreation and historic reservation area. It's history dates back to the late 1800's and the Red Cloud Agency days. First established as a camp, Fort Robinson was a base of the US military forces and played a major role in the Sioux Wars from 1879-1890. The war chief Crazy Horse surrendered in 1877. The fort also served as home to the 9th Cavalry Regiment, nicknamed the "Buffalo Soldiers" and then later home to the world's largest remount depot. It was used as a breeding and training facility for military horses and the extensive equine facilities still remain today. During World War II, Fort Robinson was transformed into a K-9 crops training center for military dogs. When visiting the fort, one can visit many of the original buildings and facilities, visit the library full of materials on the forts extensive military, western and Native American history, tour museums and enjoy the 22,000 acres of trails and streams. Fort Robinson is considered by many a local and national treasure of history and nature. The house, built in 2008, is a fully-custom, luxurious log home complete with three bedrooms, three baths, elevator and countless upgrades found over the approximate 3,256 finished sq. ft. of living space. The home has an open concept floor plan which allows for easy entertaining. The entirety of the home, from floor to ceiling, is finished in logs or tongue-and-groove knotty-pine.

The main level of the home is a spacious combination of kitchen, living room and dining room with an abundance of grand windows and rock accents throughout. The kitchen features log-styled cabinets and a bar accented in rustic stones with laminate counter tops. Kitchen appliances include an oversized range with microwave above, large French door refrigerator and dishwasher. A beautifully ornate wood cook stove inset is located in the dining room along with windows reaching to the peak of the cathedral ceiling.

Also featured on the main level is a bedroom and bathroom. Access to the attached garage is provided on the main level via the mudroom/laundry room. Hardwood flooring matching the log home theme is found throughout the living space and bedroom, with tile floor found in the kitchen, bathroom and laundry/mud room.

A beautiful stair case made from large logs with rustic railing leads to the upstairs loft which features an open area over-looking the main level, perfect for a home office or a sitting area complete with built in bookcases designed in the rustic theme of the home. Located upstairs is the master bedroom suite complete with French doors that lead to a private balcony overlooking the property. A large walk-in closet with built-ins and a fabulous master bath with double vanity sink, tile floor and a large tiled walk-in shower complete out the master suite.

Located in the finished basement is a large family room with a third bedroom and bathroom. The basement floors are stained concrete. A set of French doors provides natural light to the basement family room and provides access to the walkout, covered patio.

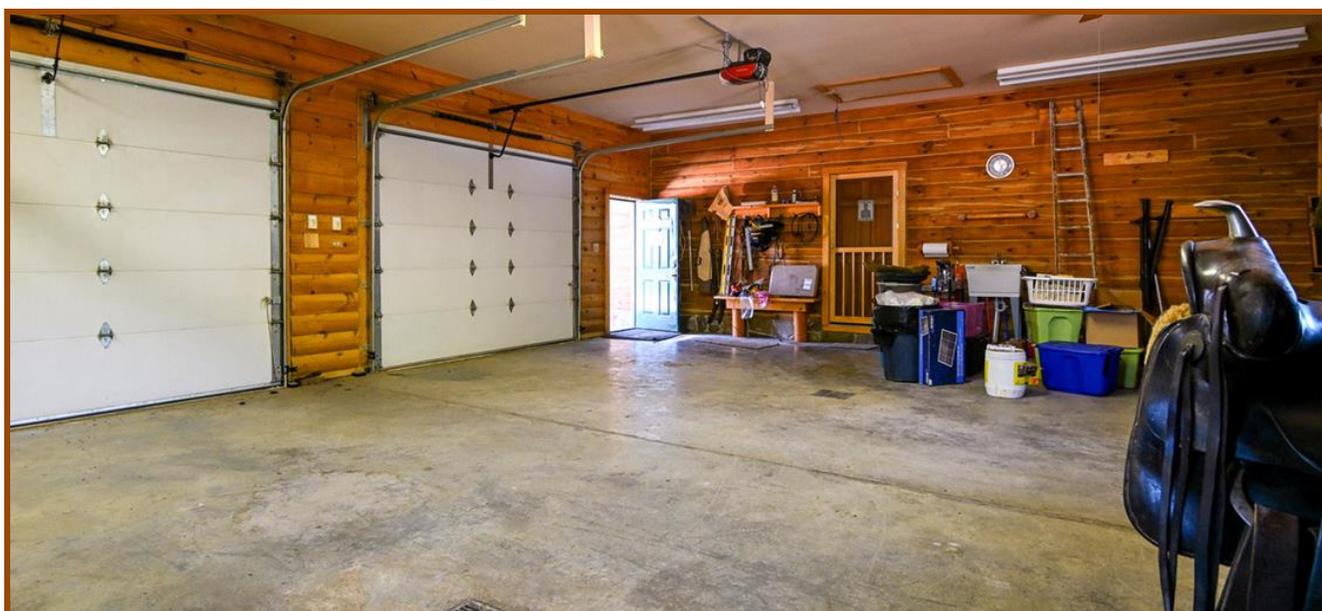

An extensive wrap-around deck features log pole railing and surrounds approximately half of the main level. The western facing section of the deck is covered and is accented with large log poles and a tongue-and-groove ceiling. Extensive masonry work featuring rustic stones that matches the interior stonework, accents the exterior of the home.

An attached two-car garage features 986 sq. ft with ample parking space and additional storage complete with two large and fully automatic garage doors. The garage walls are also finished in the same logs found throughout the home and a concrete floor is complete with in-floor drains. Ample lighting and ceiling fans create not only storage, but also workshop space. A large concrete slab is conveniently located in front of the garage doors.

A large 45' X 70' metal shop building. One side of the building features a finished "man-cave" with vaulted ceiling also done in the tongue-and-groove knotty pine found throughout this property. Stained concrete flooring, ample windows and drop-down lighting, plus a wood burning stove make this a prime space for gaming table or exercise equipment. A large, fully automatic overhead door provides access to the remainder of the shop space which is complete with a concrete floor, lighting, fans and wood burning stove.

Finally, a huge equipment building measuring 55' X 120' rounds out the improvements on the property. This building features two oversized, automatic overhead doors, lighting and a gravel floor.

Extensive gravel work has been done around the home and two metal buildings on this property, creating not only a visually appealing space, but also solid and reliable access to buildings during wet weather. Also adding to the visual appeal of this property, all buildings are of similar color and construction.
