MORE ABOUT THE BENTON 338

The Benton 338 features a healthy stand of hardwood timber, providing both habitat diversity and future income potential. Developed interior roads allow for easy access throughout the tract, while established food plots and multiple strategically placed hunting blinds enhance its immediate usability for the avid sportsman. Run-off draws that feed Opossum Creek and Eagle Creek influence the property, serving as natural travel corridors and reliable water sources that consistently draw and hold game.

Well-suited for a private hunting club, recreational getaway, or long-term land investment, the Benton 338 offers the rare combination of size, location, and natural resources that serious land buyers seek. Opportunities like this, in such a highly desirable setting, are becoming increasingly rare. Smaller acreage division is available.
